

FIRE DESTROYS HISTORIC HOUSE

Headquarters of Gen. Lee at Bloody Angle Fight Burned to Ground.

Fredericksburg, Va., July 17.—The historic "McCoul" house in Spotsylvania County, used as headquarters by Gen. Robert E. Lee during the battle of Bloody Angle, was destroyed by fire yesterday. History states that this colonial mansion changed hands between the Federal and Confederate troops seven times in one day. It long has been the most highly valued historic landmark of the county.

The house was built nearly 100 years before the civil war. It was a frame building, made from lumber hewed by hand from the surrounding forests. The timbers were put together with locust pins.

The old house was riddled with bullets and shell holes. A tree, nineteen inches in diameter, standing near the house, was filled with bullets during the battle of Bloody Angle. Gen. Myers, of the Union army, noticed the peculiar condition of the tree while passing through the courtyard and offered the owner of the house, the late Joseph Sanford, whatever he demanded for the tree. Sanford refused to sell at any price. Gen. Myers later sent a detail of men back and took the tree. After the war the government refunded Mr. Sanford's son $1,000 for this vandalism. The tree now is on exhibition at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

New Militia Company Formed.

Winchester, Va., July 17.—A new company of national guardsmen, headed by George H. Grimm as captain, was mustered into the State service here Thursday night by Maj. Joseph LeMasurier, of Richmond. It required only three weeks to form the organization, which, it is expected, will be as Company I, First Virginia Regiment, as a memorial to the late Capt. Robert F. Conrad, who led old Company I of Winchester through the Argonne in France, where he was killed.

Two Houses Destroyed by Fire.

Norfolk, Va., July 17.—Fire destroyed two two-story frame houses early this morning, owned by the Willoughby Holding Company and valued at about $15,000. The houses were occupied by H. D. Meade and E. L. Shields. Neighbors aroused by the outcry forced an entrance and saved part of the Shields cottage furniture.

WOMEN HAUNT HARDING TRAIL

Arrangements Made to Open Suffrage Headquarters Near Marion.

Campaign headquarters in Ohio will be opened by the National Women's Party if Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican Presidential nominee, fails to recognize the importance of women voters in his reply to the party's delegation Thursday.

If it is found necessary to maintain constant pressure upon the Republican leader in order to secure action on the ratification of the suffrage amendment in Vermont and Connecticut, a branch of the women's party will be opened in Delaware, a short distance from Marion, the Senator's home town. Option on the Senator's home town. Option on the renting a fraternity house for the purpose in Delaware has already been secured by Miss Alice Paul, head of the women's organization, who is leading the delegation which has gone to question the Senator.

Senator Harding's statements that he would not ask the governor of Connecticut to call a special session, states an announcement yesterday from the headquarters of the women's party here, "shows that he does not realize the national significance of the suffrage issue."

Miss Paul will remain in Ohio to open the Delaware headquarters if such a step is decided necessary.
